

The finding. The edit. The remaining decision.

Eclipse Protocol | Source v14 > Candidate v15.1

Synthetic guided-demo example. Stored findings, not a customer result, live analysis or release authorization.

HUMAN DECISION PENDING

Cue A scope remains unresolved. This document grants no release permission.

01 / The editorial recommendation

Replace the sequence with Mara's reaction. Keep Rook's voice, but remove his appearance and the completed Gate.

Source range: 00:42.000 - 00:47.500 | Media changed: 5.5 seconds

A replacement duration, not a claim that the trailer becomes 5.5 seconds shorter.

The screenshot displays the CUT//CLEAR Editorial release review interface. The top navigation bar includes the project name 'Eclipse Protocol', trailer version 'v14 - source cut', analysis run 'RUN-118 - stored', and a 'Stored demo run' button. The main content area is titled 'Guided review > Stage 3 of 5 > Story protection'. It features a 'Turn the finding into an editorial decision.' section with a 'Decision-risk heuristic' score of 92/100. Below this, there are three options for intervention: 'Replace reveal with Mara's reaction' (Recommended, Strong risk reduction), 'End before chamber opens' (Alternative, Very strong risk reduction), and 'Keep picture, mute dialogue' (Insufficient, Low risk reduction). The 'Selected intervention' section shows the chosen option: 'Replace the sequence with Mara's reaction. Keep Rook's voice, but remove his appearance and the completed Gate.' The interface also includes a sidebar with 'Release workflow' steps (Source, Evidence, Intervention, Verification, Decision) and a 'Review lens' section with 'Story protection', 'Accessible delivery', and 'Rights clearance' items.

Actual guided-demo capture. Synthetic case.

02 / The source findings

Story protection | 00:42.000 - 00:47.500

Two final-act reveals resolve together

Commander Rook appears alive inside the survival chamber, followed by a full view of the completed Black Sun Gate.

Supplied authority: Rook & Black Sun Gate Reveal Protection, section 1.1

Proposed action: Replace the sequence with Mara's reaction. Keep Rook's voice, but remove his appearance and the completed Gate.

Accessible delivery | 00:12.400 - 00:13.200

The title card cannot be read reliably

The supplied demo describes FROM BEYOND THE SILENCE at 2.8:1 contrast with a 0.8-second hold.

Supplied authority: Title Card Legibility Standard, section 2.1 (supplied demo authority)

Proposed action: Re-grade to at least 4.5:1 and extend the title-card hold to 2.0 seconds, as required by the supplied demo standard.

Rights clearance | 00:52.600 - 00:56.000

The planned campaign outruns the music license

In the guided source case, Cue A, Signal Rising, is cleared for US theatrical only. The planned campaign also includes UK, France, Japan, social and paid digital.

Supplied authority: Music Cue Clearance Matrix - Cue A

Proposed action: Extend the license to the intended scope or swap the cue for non-US-theatrical deliverables.

03 / The revision check

The story-protection comparison presents rendered candidate v15.1 with the protected visual removed and the reaction beat retained. The Cue A rights condition carries forward. This sample does not claim that every accessibility or delivery requirement has been independently cleared.

The screenshot displays the CUT//CLEAR Editorial release review interface. The top navigation bar includes the project name 'Eclipse Protocol', toolset version 'v14 - source cut', analysis run 'RUN-118 - stored', and a 'Stored demo run' button. The main content area is titled 'Guided review > Stage 4 of 5 > Story protection'. It features a 'Compare media, not promises.' section with a decision-risk heuristic score of 92/100. Below this, the 'Verification' section shows a comparison between the 'Original trailer' and the 'Rendered candidate v15.1 - Re-reviewed'. The rendered candidate has the 'Protected reveal removed'. A video player shows a scene with a glowing ring. The bottom section displays a timeline with markers for 'Protected visual', 'Emotional promise', and 'Rights condition'.

Stored synthetic comparison. Not a live model evaluation.

04 / The human decision

Human decision pending. The guided tour illustrates a conditional decision, but does not issue a production approval. A named reviewer must resolve Cue A's scope and confirm the exact version, channels, territories and supporting authority before release.
